Books we have read, re-read, and love to read.

All Good People Here
by Ashley Flowers
FLOWERS

A journalist uncovers her hometown's dark secrets when she becomes obsessed with the unsolved murder of her childhood neighbor-and the disappearance of another girl twenty years later. What will it cost to finally discover what truly happened that night?

I'm Glad my Mom Died
by Jennette McCurdy
B MCCURDY

Jennette McCurdy was six years old when she had her first acting audition. Jennette recounts in unflinching detail what happens when the dream finally comes true. Jennette embarks on recovery and decides for the first time in her life what she really wants.

The Library of Lost Things
By Laura Taylor Namey
YA NAMEY

From the moment she first learned to read, Darcy Wells has spent most of her time living in the worlds of her books. There, she can avoid the crushing reality and pretend her life is simply ordinary. To secure her own happily-ever-after will mean she'll need to stop hiding and start living her own truth--even if it's messy.

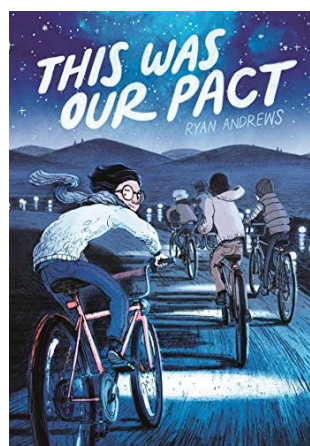

Fly by Night
by Tara O'Connor
YA 741.5973 OCO

Dee returns to her small hometown in New Jersey to see if she can help her father and the local police find her missing twin sister Beth, but only finds more mysterious questions while discovering signs of the supernatural in the surrounding woods.

How to Win a Slime War
by Mae Respicio
J RESPICIO

After moving to Sacramento to take over his grandparent's Filipino market, sixth-grader Alex seeks popularity by selling homemade slime at school, while his father insists he join a soccer team.

This was our Pact
by Ryan Andrews JGN AND

Ben and his friends are determined to find out where the paper lanterns of the annual Autumn Equinox Festival go, so they follow the river as far as they can until the only followers left are Ben and Nathaniel.
