

Auto Generated Emails From Dynamic Portal

Our Dynamic Portal is currently live and undergoing testing for a select group of Customers. We've been advised some Customers have received an auto generated email stating their construction plans have been reviewed and approved. Please disregard any auto generated email received at this time. You should contact your Development Services Project Manager for current plan review and project status. We apologize for the inconvenience and ask for your patience while we continuously strive to improve our online services.